Pre-historic Period - First Humans in India
1	2 million B.C.E.		Earliest hominids in India			First Humanoid Skull?	Continuous Human Habitation
50,000	1 million B.C.E.		Oldest Human Tools in World
100,000	500,000 B.C.E.		 Homo-Sapiens migrate into Asia 			Oldest Human Skulls		Prehistoric Find
127,000	100,000 B.C.E.						Stone age tools
133,000	10000 B.C.E.	Ethnic Diversity of India
133,050	9000 B.C.E.	The concept of race is an oversimplification based on 19th century science. Today we know that race is much more complex and subtle and most of what we refer to as 'race' is really only phenotypes (observable appearances; interaction of genotype to environment) rather than genotypes (genetic "blueprint"). 99.9 percent of the DNA of every human being on the planet is identical: Human variation in height, skin color, etc. is actually determined by only a tiny fraction of the genome.
133,100	8000 B.C.E.	Naveli Cori	First Indian City - Pre-Surat			Early Farming	Pre-SSC Dharma	Anthropological Discontinuities
133,150	7000 B.C.E.	25,000 year old paintings (Bhimbetka)				First Major Indian city - Mehrgarh			Genetic Makeup of Indians	Potential Keralans from Kyrgyzstan	Pre-Harappan Evidence
133,200	6100 B.C.E.	Saraswati Cities
		Pre-Dynastic Era
Although we do not have much evidence to prove the validity of the Pre-Dynastic lineage (other than what is documented in the Puranas), we also do NOT have any sure way to conclusively disprove it. Therefore I am including it for completeness.
1	6100 B.C.E.	Dera Archaeological Site	Pre-SSC Civilization	First Couple Mythology	Svayambhuva	Swayambhuva Manu (the first Manu - 'Adi Manu') is Adam . His wife, Saurava (Haurava) is Eve .

>>>	>>>	9000 B.C.E.	The concept of race is an oversimplification based on 19th century science. Today we know that race is much more complex and subtle. We refer to as 'race' is really only phenotypes (observable appearances; interaction of genotype to environment) rather than genes ("blueprint"). 99.9 percent of the DNA of every human being on the planet is identical: Human variation in height, skin color, etc. is actually only a tiny fraction of the genome.

Most of what we know about the early human population of India is derived from the study of the genetic types (genetically determined by the DNA of the population)		>>>	9000 B.C.E.	The concept of race is an oversimplification based on 19th century science. Today we know that race is much more complex than what we refer to as 'race' is really only phenotypes (observable appearances; interaction of genotype to environment). 99.9 percent of the DNA of every human being on the planet is identical: Human variation in height, skin color, etc. is only a tiny fraction of the genome.

In the Puranas, we find the story of the First Couple, Manu and Shatarupa.				Although we do not have much evidence to prove the validity of the Pre-Dynastic lineage (other than the fact that it is mentioned in the Puranas), we also do NOT have any sure way to conclusively disprove it. Therefore I am including it for completeness.

Proof Points in this chronology:

This Royal Chronology of India is not based on any one "sheet anchor", but rather on many proof points based on evidence (archaeology, anthropology, geology, literature, linguistics, scripture, numismatics, astronomical data, etc.)

- 1) Buddhist & Maurya/Asoka archeo finds c. 500-200 B.C.E.
- 2) Pre-Buddhist archeo finds c. 800 B.C.E. (Raja-Griha; "Rajgir")

3) Mahabharat archeo finds in Pandavsthan, Bihar and Antrajaka (between 2000 and 1000 B.C.E.) and archeo finds in Dvaraka (between 1800 and 1100 B.C.E.)

4) Dating of Ancient Priests before 1900 B.C.E. (based on Sarasvati River dessication) matches their entry in this chronology

5) Dating of Ancient Priests before 2600 B.C.E. (based on Drshadvati River dessication) matches their entry in this chronology

6) Kurukshetra archeo finds (between 3000 and 2500 B.C.E.) match the location and dating of the Dasharajnya War in this chronology

7) Average regnal period of 25 years holds constant in this chronology from 4000 B.C.E. till today (this also correlates well with royal chronologies around the world).

Points to ponder:

If the dating of Buddha is moved back to 1000 B.C.E. or earlier, the MBH will have to be moved back to before 2000 B.C.E. and therefore the Ramayana will have to be moved back before 3000 B.C.E. and therefore the Dasharajyna will have to be moved back before 4000 B.C.E. which then pushes Emperor Bharata back to around 5000 B.C.E. and Vivasvata to 6000 B.C.E.(?) - there isn't a shred of evidence to support all of those dates. This scenario becomes even more ridiculous if the Mahabharat War is assumed to have occurred at 3100 B.C.E. with other dates pushed back even farther (i.e., King Vivasvata to around 7000 B.C.E.). Furthermore, to substantially shift this Indian timeline back requires a shifting back of all world history since many points in this timeline relate to other civilizations and nations.

Request for Academic Assistance:

This timeline must be thoroughly vetted by an academic effort in order to gain more credibility by the academic community and become part of the official educational system in India and the world. I am not an academic. I am a critically-minded, Indian-American who has put a great deal of time these past 4 years into this ongoing project. What I want to see and what we need to have is at least one full-time PhD scholar work on this timeline as part of a Doctoral Thesis and produce a book as the output (with the Royal Chronology India Timeline in an Appendix and associated website).

Areas where more work is needed include (but are certainly not limited to):

- 1) Map all the kings of the 10 books of the Rg Veda against the kings in this timeline to both add depth to this timeline and to pin down a more accurate timeframe for the composition of the Rg Veda. Continue this effort to the later Vedas.
- 2) More information about all the royal dynasties of Persia and creating a solid LINKAGE POINT between these lists and Indian King's list (especially at the Zarathushtra point - which is supposed to correspond to a timeframe of the later Vedas).
- 3) More information about the 24 Jaina Tirthankaras and determining the historical validity and timeframes of as many of these 24 leaders/ law-givers as is possible (assuming that many of them have an historical basis).
- 4) More information about the chronologies of South Indian dynasties
- 5) Inclusion of lists of priestly teacher-student disciplic successions (Guru-Parampara)
- 6) Try to name and locate in ancient literature some of the SSC cities thereby creating more archeo-based 'ANCHORS'.
- 7) Decipher the 'Indus Script' tablets in order to understand the culture, religion, economy of the SSC and map it into Indian literature.

The need is great and it truly requires a full-time effort by a qualified and motivated individual. I will support that individual (or individuals) as best I can. If you have any recommendations for someone who can fill this role, please contact me at newdharma2100@yahoo.com Thank you.

9000 B.C.E.	The concept of race is an oversimplification based on 19th century science. Today we know that race is much more complex and subtle and most of what we refer to as 'race' is really only phenotypes (observable appearances; interaction of genotype to environment) rather than genotypes (genetic "blueprint"). 99.9 percent of the DNA of every human being on the planet is identical: Human variation in height, skin color, etc. is actually determined by only a tiny fraction of the genome.

A great source for information about these major religions is the website: www.ishwar.com
Ancient Hinduism is listed separately from Modern Hinduism because the religions are nearly diametrically opposed to each other.

Polytheism: The belief in many gods
Atheism: The belief that God doesn't exist
Monism: The belief that "all is one"
Monotheism: The belief in one God

		FESTIVALS OF INDIA:
No.	Date	Festival	Religion	Significance
1	1-Jan	New Year's Day	ALL	International New Year's Day.
2	14-Jan	Makar Sakranti	Hinduism	This festivals coincides with the Sun's northward journey (Uttarayan) when it enters the sign of Makar (Capricorn). This astrological day has been considered as good luck since the advent of the Aryans in India. During the Mahabharat War, Bhishma supposedly waited until this day to die. Legend has it that anyone who dies on this day escapes the cycle of birth and death. Many people share sesame sweets on this day.
3	January	Republic Day	ALL	Festival of India (National Pride Day)
4	Jan 20+	Pongal	Hinduism	A Dravidian festival of Spring celebrated in Tamil Nadu after the winter solstice. This is a 3 day festival of prayer with the 4th day for outdoor activities. People eat a special 'pudding' of boiled milk, rice, dal, nuts and saffron.
5	24-Jan	Mauni Amavasya	Hinduism	Smaller version of Kumbh Mela (see below).
6	Jan. 9-Feb 21	Kumbh Mela	Hinduism	Largest religious gathering on Earth (30 million+ people). Every 12 years, Hindus from all over the world come to the town of Allahabad (Prayag) at the confluence of the Ganga and Yamuna Rivers for 42 days. The purpose of this great gathering is to share knowledge and take a purifying swim (Baptism) in the waters. Kumbha Mela - festival of Aquarius (mela=festival and kumbha=sacred pitcher which is the Zodiacal symbol of the sign Aquarius ). This festival takes place every time the sun stands in Aquarius (every 3 years with a major or Maha Kumbha Mela every 12 years).
7	Jan/Feb	Vasant Panchami	Hinduism	This is a Spring Festival (Vasant Panchami means 5th day of Spring). Saraswati (equivalent to the Greek/Roman god: Minerva) is worshipped and people decorate with yellow colors since yellow flowers bloom in Spring.
8	Feb 25+	Hajj	Islam	Pilgrimage Muslims take at least once in their life to Mecca, Saudia Arabia.
9	Feb/March	Maha ShivaRatri	Hinduism	Worship of Shiva - part of Holy Trinity. It is believed that in the past, on an evening during this time of year, Shiva showed himself to the world. People fast during the day and pray to God at this time to relieve themselves of sins committed in the past 3 lives. The main place this festival occurs is at one of the 12 JyotirLingas - in Ujjain (Avanti). * See Notes below.
10	March	Holi	Hinduism	The festival of Spring where everyone goes out into the streets and gets each other colored with brightly colored powders (grains). People play joyfully with coloured water and everywhere one hears the shouts of "Holi-ho! Holi-ho!" People stand in the streets and pump coloured water over the body and clothes of any man who passes by, be he a rich man or an officer. There is no restriction on this day. It is like the April Fool day of the Europeans. People compose and sing special Holi songs.
11	March	Mawlid an Nabi	Islam	Muhammad's Birthday. Go to http://www.holidayfestival.com/Islam.html to see how the Muslim Calendar compares to the standard Gregorian Calendar.

12	March/April	Ram Navami	Hinduism	Celebration of the birth of King/Lord Rama. The noblest lesson embodied in the Ramayana is the supreme importance of righteousness in the life of every human being. Righteousness is the spiritual spark of life. Cultivation of righteousness is the process of unfoldment of the latent divinity in man. The glorious incarnation of the Supreme Being in the form of Lord Rama has exemplified the path of righteousness. Let mankind follow His footsteps and practise the ideals cherished by Him, for it is only thus that there can be everlasting peace, prosperity and welfare in this world.
13	April	Easter	Christianity	Resurrection (rising from the dead back to life) of Jesus.
14	April	Baisakhi	Sikhism/ Hinduism	It was on this day that the last Guru Gobind Singh organised the sikhs into Khalsa or the pure ones. By doing so, he eliminated the differences of high and low and established that all human beings were equal. For Hindus, it is the start of the new year, and is celebrated with requisite bathing, partying, and worshipping.
15	April/May	Mahavir Jayanti	Jainism	Birth of founder of Jainism – Mahavir.
16	June	Ganesh Chaturthi	Hinduism	He is addressed as the "Remover of Obstacles" ("Vignaharta"). His devotees believe that no enterprise will succeed unless he is invoked. The picture of Ganpati is often found on the doors of houses and printed on wedding cards. On the occasion of the Ganpati festival a large number of images are made of all possible sizes, and people buy them to keep in their houses as a divine guest for one and a half, five, seven, or ten days, after which the image is taken out ceremoniously and thrown into the river, sea or well for immersion or "visarjan". When he is immersed in the water, people sing, "GANPATI BAPPA MORYA, AGLE BARAS TO JALDI AA," ("father Ganpati, next year come again.")
17	July/August	Guru Purnima	Hinduism	Remembrance of Sage Vyasa - who edited the 4 Vedas and wrote 18 Puranas, the Mahabharat and the Srimad Bhagavatam.
18	4-Aug	Rakhi (Raksha Bandan)	Hinduism	This festival (RAKHI PURNIMA) which originated in Vedic times celebrates the bond between brothers and sisters. Sisters tie a string/Rakhi around her brother's wrist so that he will remember her. The amulet is known as a Rakshi (Raksha means "protection ") or Rakhi is tied round the wrist of brothers by the sisters as a protection from evil during the ensuing year. He gives her a gift and she cooks him something sweet.
19	August	Krishna Janmashtami	Hinduism	Festival celebrating the birth of Prince/Lord Krishna (this should fall about 8 days after Raksha Bandan).
20	15-Aug	Independence Day	ALL	Independence of India from Britain on August 15th, 1947.
21	21-Aug	Parsi New Year	Zoroastrianism	Zoroastrian ('Parsi') New Year.
22	September	Buddha Jayanti	Buddhism	Birth of Gautama Siddhartha – The Buddha.
23	October	NavRatri	Hinduism	Worship of Goddess Durga for 9 nights 'Nava Ratri' - who took 9 avatars (incarnations) and killed 9 evil forces (Asuras). Each day of Navratri is devoted to one avatar. The 9 Avatars are described below.
24	October	Id-ul-Fitr	Islam	Marks the end of fasting in the month of Ramadan and is celebrated with public prayers, feasts and exchange of gifts.
25	October	Karawa Chauth	Hinduism	Karawa Chauth (4th day of month, Karawa) - women fast and pray for their husband's long life and that they may get their husbands again in the next life. They break the fast when they see the full moon.
26	October	Dassera	Hinduism	Dassera (the '10th' day) celebrates King Rama's defeat of the evil King of Lanka, Ravana. People burn large effigies of Ravana symbolically recreating King Ravana's defeat.
27	Oct/Nov	Diwali (Deepa Vali)	Hinduism	Indian New Year: Deepa Vali ('Row of Lamps') is a celebration of King Rama's return from 14 years of exile in the jungles of India and Sri Lanka back to the candle/lamp-lit city of Ayodhya - the capital city of his kingdom. This is the most important Indian holiday in the year.
28	November	Guru Nanak Jayanti	Sikhism	Guru Nanak's Birth

29	Dec. 25	Christmas	Christianity	Celebration of birth of Jesus (actually a historical combination of the celebration of Jesus's birth with the ancient Roman winter equinox festival).
30	Dec. 27+	Id-ul-Adha (Muharram)	Islam	A celebration at the end of the fasting month of Ramadan to commemorate the martyrdom of Muhammad's grandson, Hussein.
